Position Description

Samaritan Health Services has an opportunity for a Palliative Care Medical Director

Samaritan Health Services, a non-profit integrated health care delivery system in Oregon, is seeking a full time Palliative Care Physician Medical Director (MD/DO) to lead our established team of six clinicians. Our award-winning health system provides exceptional primary care and a range of specialty services throughout the mid-Willamette Valley and Central Oregon coast. The network serves approximately 300,000 residents in Linn, Benton, Lincoln and portions of Polk and Marion counties. Our skilled providers have a passion for building healthier communities through world-class, compassionate health care.

Job Specifics

- Administrative duties to include working within the palliative care team, and across Samaritan system, to facilitate the work of the service line. This includes program directorship, clinician mentorship, and community outreach.
- Clinical duties to include both inpatient and outpatient responsibilities, and oversight of IDT (RN, LCSW, chaplains).
- No traditional call; on-call hours are M-F daytime hours only as back-up to community-based RNs.
- Participate in the teaching of medical students, residents, and other learners working with the palliative care service.

Job Requirements

- Education: Board Certified with fellowship in palliative care and/or hospice.
- Experience: Experience in medical leadership required.
- Licensure/Certification: Current Oregon license (or eligible)
- Other: CPR, BCLS, PALS required

We offer an attractive salary plus incentives, relocation assistance, paid malpractice, CME allowance, Electronic Medical Record (EPIC) and a competitive benefit package.

Location details

Physicians and their families will appreciate the abundant outdoor recreation opportunities available in the Willamette Valley, as well as proximity to the pristine Oregon Coast, the Cascade Mountains for snow sports, and Portland, Oregon's largest city – all within two hours! Experience the unmatched quality of life that our area has to offer.
